

Sticky Notes

The Microsearch search engine provides a “sticky note” capability. Sticky notes are available to Registered Users. If the user has not registered, the server doesn't know who the user is, therefore can't recall the user's history).

When a database document is opened, the registered user can see notes from a previous visit to the page.

If the user wants to add a note for future reference, she presses the sticky note icon (#1), and the dialog box below opens:

The “Sticky Note” is capable of holding large notes, images, and links to other pages.
